FROM THE STAFF...

Roosevelt Public Library embraces the values foundational to libraries: intellectual freedom, open and equitable access, literacy, and learning. The library will stand on the frontline of current issues such as censorship and the banning of books to protect these values.

Banned books is a form of censorship that your library will defend. Books that have been removed from some library's collections are The Bluest Eye by Toni Morrison, To Kill a Mockingbird and The Hate You Give by Angie Thomas. A full list of banned books can be found at <https://www.ala.org>.

Roosevelt Public Library is a leader in protecting its communities rights and freedom to READ. The library's collection will house any materials needed and requested by the community.

Our collection offers library materials in different formats. Please check out Nassau Digital Doorway, Flipster, Hoopla, Fregal and others for free resources. These resources are available free to the community with a Roosevelt Public Library card. Check out the list of materials in this RPL Fall Newsletter.

Also, please register for the new library card in honor of Hip Hop 50. Roosevelt's own Hip Hop artist, Hall of Famer, Author and Artist, Chuck D of Public Enemy is on the library card.

For further information about your library, please feel free to contact us.

Thank You and Happy Fall!

CULTURALLY CONNECTING BLACK HERITAGE...

Fall and Winter arrives each year marking the reality that Back to School is official and Holidays are marching close behind! In support of the community's well-being during this festive season, the library has planned activities to ... Challenge Yourself! Yes, we encourage each of you to collectively do something that keeps You thriving! Let's all aim for a viable Healthspan (healthy years you live) and our version of Blue Zones (healthy regions where Centenarians live)! So whether you want to Challenge Yourself with knowledge (Truth Be Told cause our History matters - Oct. Tuesdays); Decluttering (Nov. 2); Money Matters Challenge (Nov. 20); or Move It Mondays (Soul Line Dancing in October) and NikkiFit (Tuesday and Wednesday) We've gotchu!

Our hope is many Roosevelt Residents continue helping others this holiday season and beyond. Inviting a friend to one of our programs is a great way to show gratitude for their lives and self-care for yours! ASE!
