FROM THE DESK OF

Dr. Lambert C. Shell - Director

After a rough few years battling the pandemic, the Roosevelt Public Library and its staff are happy to welcome our patrons and community back into the library.

We are excited to report that the library again welcomes patrons into the building and offers in-person programs, especially our annual events.

After a two-year hiatus, this March, we conducted our annual Women's Tea program, a tradition we hold dear to our hearts, with over 180 participants. It was a huge success.

We would like to take this time to welcome our new Adult Librarian, Christine Giannico, our new Youth Services Librarian, Egita Johnson-Guillaume, and our new Library Pages, Kiera Baptiste, Katherine Munoz, Miguel Vargas, and Jhamalee Vital.

The Roosevelt Public Library continues our commitment in bridging the gap between the digital divide and the community; we will soon offer Samsung Galaxy Tablets and Chromebook Laptops as loans to the community.

We also would like to introduce our new library card! Roosevelt Library Black Card. The card is available to any Roosevelt resident.

We would like to thank the community for their continuous support and look forward to a bright future.

THE RPL NEW BLACK CARD...

Stop in and apply for yours today!

The Keeper of Night

LIBRARY READS

APRIL 2022 - TOP TEN BOOKS PUBLISHED THAT LIBRARY STAFF ACROSS THE COUNTRY LOVE

LESSONS IN CHEMISTRY

By Bonnie Garmus

"In the 50s and early 60s when women were viewed as little more than chattel for men's convenience, Elizabeth Zott had the temerity to become a chemist. With complex and wonderful characters, her story is funny, sad, enraging, hopeful, and will have readers cheering for every character and all women everywhere. For fans of Where'd You Go Bernadette?, The Rosie Project, and Eleanor Oliphant Is Completely Fine."

INSOMNIA

by Sarah Pinborough

"Emma has the perfect career, husband, and family. She also has a secret that is about to catch up with her. She is turning 40 and slowly spiraling out of control as the past creeps closer. Is her insomnia touching her with insanity, or is she about to relive what she has been trying to hide all these years? For fans of The End of Her and Mrs. March."

THE MEMORY LIBRARIAN

And Other Stories of Dirty Computer

by Janelle Monáe

"These science fiction stories are set in a universe adjacent to the one featured in acclaimed actor/musician Monáe's concept albums and offer hope when despair is at its ripest. Tales of invented homes, found families, hard choices, and the exhausting work of imagining a better future jump off the page. For fans of Octavia Butler and Rivers Solomon."

PORTRAIT OF A TRAIT OF A THIEF

by Grace D. Li

"Li's debut novel is a fun heist book focusing on five Chinese-American college students recruited to steal artwork from Western museums and return them to China. The book looks at issues of diaspora, colonization, and the character's different relationships with culture and identity. Give to readers who liked The Verifiers and Skin Deep."

TAKE MY HAND

by Dolen Perkins-Valdez

"A well-paced, wrenching book about the reproductive rights of Blacks and the poor in the mid 20th century. The story moves back and forth in time with fully drawn characters, giving the reader a view of the consequences of the health care system's policies and fresh outrage at the wrongs perpetrated upon Black women. For readers of Celeste Ng and Rebecca Skloot."

by Adriana Trigiani

"Following the lives of various generations of the Cabrelli family, Trigiani takes readers through the 1920s, World War II, and modern day Italy and Scotland. With descriptive language and well-drawn characters, each generation's story is woven seamlessly into the next. For fans of Love and Ruin and The Guest Book."

I'LL BE YOU

by Janelle Brown

"Sam and Elli, identical twin sisters and former television stars, have their issues. Sam is a recovering addict, and Elli has been taken in by a cult. But they are quite likable, and the story is totally engaging, a bit suspenseful, and includes well developed plot points. Give to fans of The Good Sister and The Girl in the Mirror."

TO MARRY AND TO MEDDLE

by Martha Waters

"After six seasons, Emily's only suitor is a gambling house owner whose father owes a lot of money. Fortunately, Julian wants to marry her to elevate him in society, which will lead to more respectable people coming to his theater. He proposes a marriage of convenience, and of course, love has to find its way. A fun, witty romance for fans of Bridgerton and A Rogue of One's Own."

SISTER STARDUST

by Jane Green

"Teen Claire leaves England for Marrakech and falls in with charismatic socialite Talitha Getty and her coterie of rock stars, fashion icons, and millionaires amid a buffet of sex, drugs, and alcohol. Fans of Daisy Jones and the Six will find much to love in this book, beautifully told in a manic pace that takes you down the rabbit hole of the swinging '60s."

THE WEDDING CRASHER

By Mia Sosa

"After Solange stops Dean's wedding of convenience, they start a mutually beneficial fake relationship: Dean can make partner at his law firm and Solange can get her meddlesome family off her case.
